Publishing with Cell Press: Making a first impression and peer review from an editor's perspective

Masha Gelfand, Ph.D.
Scientific Editor,
Developmental Cell

Masha Gelfand, Ph.D. will share with you how best to prepare an abstract and a cover letter for your manuscript submission and will share insights into the peer-review process.

Dr. Gelfand trained in neurobiology with an emphasis on angiogenesis, and then decided to continue her eclectic biological interests by becoming an editor at Developmental Cell, where she loves reading papers on all facets of cell and developmental biology.
