

UMASS WORCESER FAMILY MEDICINE RESIDENCY

RESIDENT BIOGRAPHIES

2008-2009

HAHNEMANN FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

First Year Residents

Chad Beattie, a Toronto native, graduated from St. George's University, Grenada in June, 2008. He received his Honors degree in Marine Biology from Dalhousie University in Halifax, Nova Scotia. Chad has interests in traveling, SCUBA diving, and baseball. His wife joins him here at UMass in the Anesthesiology program. E-mail: beattiec@ummhc.org

Hayley Moak-Blest - graduated from the Nova Southeastern University College of Osteopathic Medicine in May, 2008. She completed her BS in Nutrition with Honors at UMass-Amherst. She has a strong background in community health and fitness. E-mail: moakh@ummhc.org

David Rosa graduated from Saba University in September 2007 and received his BS in Biology from Brock University in Canada. He is fluent in Spanish, Italian and Albanian. His hobbies include working out, wine making, and travelling. E-mail: rosad@ummhc.org

Thamrah Wright - graduated from the University of Connecticut School of Medicine in May, 2008 and received her BS in Biology from Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Virginia. She has been an active volunteer particularly in the area of community health education. She has also been active in research, receiving the Abbot Labs and University of Connecticut School of Medicine Award for Outstanding Research Presentation. E-mail: wright02@ummhc.org