

Resources for Health Professionals

American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance promotes healthy lifestyles through high quality programs in health, physical education, recreation, dance and sport. Site links to the International Electronic Journal of Health Education.

American Evaluation Association connects to special topic interest groups in evaluation, including health education, job postings, and conferences.

American Medical Association provides current, useful information on HIV/AIDS as well as articles from current issues of JAMA.

American Public Health Association links to Association sections, caucuses, affiliates and related public health Web sites; presents action alerts, publication information, and conference announcements.

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention covers epidemiological data through WONDER and NCHS; advises travelers on health precautions; lists job opportunities; publishes condition based health information; and lists distance learning programs offered through the Public Health Training Network (PHTN).

CHID - the Combined Health Information Database allows users to search for various government supported materials developed for patient and health information.

Health Education Program of the American Academy of Family Physicians Foundation offers a database of health education materials divided by subject and format.

Healthfinder provides consumer health information documents produced by Federal agencies.

National Institutes of Health \(NIH\) links to all its constituent institutes which provide health education materials on diverse topics, including AIDS, aging, child health, communication disorders, cancer, genetics, and others.

National Institute for Literacy provides discussions on health and literacy for health educators, literacy practitioners, and others. Send subscription to: listproc@literacy.nifl.gov Message: subscribe NIFL-HEALTH your-name

New York Online Access to Health disseminates a wealth of topical health information, links to medical databases and Internet resources, and statistical data for NY in English and Spanish.

Physicians for Social Responsibility offers information on environmental health and violence prevention and supports advocacy efforts in these areas.

University of California Irvine Health Promotion Center offers information on corporate and community health promotion strategies and links to approximately 300 web sites on health promotion and disease prevention.

World Health News, an online news digest from the Center for Health Communication of the Harvard School of Public Health, is designed as a resource for an international audience of policy makers and journalists, as well as public health researchers, practitioners, and advocates.