Greetings from the Chair

I'd like to welcome our fabulous new interns, new residents, new fellows, new staff, and new faculty as we start the new fiscal year. Congrats to Sheldon Benjamin for taking the new role as the first vice chair of education, and to Bill Dube whose tenure recommendation has been approved by the Board of Trustees. You will read more about Bill in the August issue. Web pages are being created and revamped—thanks for your efforts to improve our web representation. Strategic planning is being implemented at a steady pace. We are off to a great start!

Doug

Headlines

THE MASSACHUSETTS CHILD PSYCHIATRY ACCESS PROJECT (MCPAP) has received tremendous praise and feedback from colleagues, medical professionals, and compassionate caregivers. "They are doing an amazing job!" is just one of the many positive comments on this essential project. The offering and the quality of the program have been so highly recognized that the school leadership sent a recognition email to the department. The MCPAP is a system of regional children's mental health consultation teams designed to help primary care providers (PCPs) meet the needs of children with psychiatric problems.

IOM report

DOUG ZIEDONIS MD MPH presented to the Department of Defense, Department of Veterans Affairs, the White House, and Congress in Washington D.C. as a member of the Institute of Medicine (IOM) committee who wrote the report "Combating Tobacco Use in Military and Veteran Populations," Jun. 25. Read the press release here.

MASSACHUSETTS OXYCONTIN AND HEROIN COMMISSION held the fifth in a series of hearings regarding the state's growing rate of OxyContin and heroin addiction on the University Campus, Jun. 26. Douglas Ziedonis testified that addiction to drugs and alcohol should be treated as a disease, like cancer. Legislators and physicians explained that addiction should get the same attention, support, and treatment options. For more information, read the article in the Telegram & Gazette.

SUSAN PHILLIPS and KIM SMITH's design talent discovered by Hollywood. The producers of the television show "House" from Universal Network Television, LLC contacted the UMass Office of Public Affairs and Publications, asking for permission to use the posters they found on one of the pages of psychiatry's Center for Mental Health Services Research website. After acquiring permission from the presenters of the posters, Susan Phillips, who designed some of the posters, (Kim Smith also designed some of the posters) sent 23 of the poster files to the studio's art director. The educational posters might be used as props and set decorations on a House episode that will air Sep. 21. While there are no guarantees that the posters will definitely be used, we will be watching with excitement to see if they are. You can view all the posters by visiting the following link: <http://www.umassmed.edu/posters.aspx>.

Recognitions

TONY ROTHSCHILD MD recently attended the APA's 2009 Annual Meeting: Golden Gate to Learning, San Francisco. In the picture, Tony signs a copy of his new book "Clinical Manual for Diagnosis and Treatment of Psychotic Depression" published by American Psychiatric Publishing Inc. for Eunice Wong MD of Hong Kong.

TOM GRISSO PhD spoke at the Annual DMH Forensic Conference, Leominster. More than 200 people from across the state representing the forensic community, court clinics and inpatient services attended the conference. Other than serving on a panel, Tom also presented on the essentials of forensic report writing.

GERARDO GONZALEZ MD received a three-year R01 grant on Memantine-enhanced buprenorphine treatment for opioid dependent young adults. Heroin use and non-medical use of prescription opioids among young adults continues to increase. Their study will evaluate if adding memantine to buprenorphine may become an effective alternative short-term intervention for many young adult patients, and change current clinical practice for this population. Congratulations!
