

Free & Open to the Public: Film and Discussion

The Be Mentally Well lecture series from UMass Department of Psychiatry Presents...

Living with Bi-Polar Disorder:

The Human Face – Exploring Exceptional Lives, Challenges & Triumphs

Featuring a free, Massachusetts-exclusive screening of the nationally celebrated documentary, Of Two Minds. The film presents the intimate, personal stories of four individuals who have lived with the disorder; their struggles and successes, dark moments and humorous adventures.

Wednesday, March 13, 2013, 6:30-9 p.m.

Amphitheater 1

University of Massachusetts Medical School campus

The Department of Psychiatry (University of Massachusetts Medical School/UMASS Memorial Health Care) invites the public to the sixth of its acclaimed, free events in the educational Be Mentally Well lecture series.

Lisa Klein, co-director/writer/producer of Of Two Minds will be at the showing and participate in a panel discussion after the film. Joining her will be Alan Brown, MD, vice chair, Adult Clinical Services, UMass Department of Psychiatry, and three individuals with lived experience.

To register or to get more details, call 508-856-8507 or e-mail

PsychiatryCommunications@umassmed.edu

Media inquiries

Dennis Nealon

Dennis.Nealon2@umassmed.edu

508-856-2199

Lead sponsor:

Co-sponsored by DBSA Worcester; NAMI Central MA; Genesis Club, Inc.