The Transitions RTC aims to improve the supports for youth and young adults, ages 14-30, with serious mental health conditions who are trying to successfully complete their schooling and training and move into rewarding work lives. We are located at the University of Massachusetts Medical School, Worcester, MA, Department of Psychiatry, Center for Mental Health Services Research. Visit us at:

http://labs.umassmed.edu/transitionsRTC/index.htm

The contents of this presentation were developed with funding from the US Department of Education, National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research, and the Center for Mental Health Services, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (NIDRR grant H133B090018). Additional funding provided by UMass Medical School’s Commonwealth Medicine division. The content of this presentation does not necessarily reflect the views of the funding agencies and you should not assume endorsement by the Federal Government.

Transitions RTC
Maryann Davis, PhD, Director
Why is supporting the mental health of students in college important?

“The most recent American College Health Association 2006 survey (94,806 students from public and private universities across the country)

- Within the past year:
  94 out of 100 students reported feeling overwhelmed by all they had to do.
  44 out of 100 - almost half - have felt so depressed it was difficult to function.
  8 out of a 100 reported having a depressive disorder.
  12 out of 100 had an anxiety disorder.
  9 out of 100 or approximately 1 out of every 11 students reported having seriously considered suicide within the past year.
  1.3% actually did attempt suicide.”

K. Sokol, Illinois Institute of Technology (2011)
Introduction

What are Environmental Approaches?:

A Social Model of Disability
Environment in the ICF Education
Importance for Mental Health Conditions
Community Participation, Valued Social Roles
Environmental Barriers:

Stigma
Lack of supports
Uniformed campus personnel and faculty
Uninformed policy
Access to means of self-harm
Examples of Efforts to Address Environmental Barriers

The Modeghal Policy for Supporting College Students
The JED Guide to Campus Mental Health
Mental Health Rights on Campus
The Campus Solidarity Campaign
Active Minds
Educational Accommodations

Transitions RTC
Maryann Davis, PhD, Director
Mission:
Launch a campus wide effort for mental health promotion and suicide prevention. Develop a widespread commitment using a public health approach.

Activities and Strategies:
Building Momentum
Engage in Strategic Planning Process
Obtain senior administrator support
Engage stakeholders

www.ulifeline.org
www.halfofus.com
My Mental Health Rights on Campus

Can my school discipline me for something I think happened because of my mental health condition? It depends...

- Not if the school is discriminating against you because you have a mental health condition resulting in a disability. You are entitled to a hearing and/or appeal process in most schools if you think you are being discriminated against.

Discrimination you because of hospitalizations and related absences may be discrimination, and therefore, against the law. Get some legal guidance if you want to appeal a discriminatory action.

- If your behavior violates a school's code of conduct, their disciplinary action may not be considered discriminatory as long as it is consistently applied to all students. Find out about the discipline policy and the disciplinary practice (such as "zero tolerance") in your school.

A school may be able to discipline you for disorderly conduct if it's in their rules, even if the behavior is caused by a mental health condition. Every school has different policies and the consequences of your actions may vary so you find out the code of conduct at your school.

- Having an education accommodation may help prevent behaviors that can get you in trouble. You can get an accommodation if you have a documented disability. See the tip sheet on accommodations at http://hms.UMassMed.edu/transitionsRTC/Resources/Publications.html.

Do not take on your school by yourself. You may need legal help to deal with these issues. You can get more information from the Bazelon Center for Mental Health Law: http://www.bazelon.org/ and the National Disability Rights Network (NDRN): www.ndrn.org.

Can my school require me to take a leave of absence? It depends...

- A school should not impose a leave of absence simply because you have a record of a mental health diagnosis. A leave should only be imposed after an individualized assessment has been made to determine that the school considers you to be at risk of harming yourself or others.

- The school should also provide you with the same withdrawal arrangements as if you were leaving due to physical health reasons. Check your school's policies.

- If the school tries to make you leave involuntarily due to your mental health condition, it should give you "due process protections." You can file a complaint with the disability compliance officer and/or the civil rights office. See what your school's policies are regarding appeals.

Due process protections include notifying the student of the action the school is considering and an explanation of why the school believes that such an action is necessary. The student and his or her representative should have an opportunity to respond and provide relevant information.

- Codes of conduct may also be called "expectations of students" or "conduct requirements."

How do I get help for my mental health condition on my college campus?

- Most college counseling centers can provide free therapy visits. Check your school's website.

- If you are calling your college counseling center and it is an emergency, please let the receptionist know right away so that they can take appropriate action, which may include helping to get you an immediate appointment.

- If you are in crisis and need immediate help call 911, go to the nearest hospital emergency room, or call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-TALK - available 24 hours a day.

- Try the Lifeline, this is an online college resource that provides information about mental health issues and resources on and around many campuses: www.Lifeline.org.

- See if there is a chapter of Active Minds in or near your school. Active Minds is a student-run organization dedicated to raising mental health awareness and decreasing stigma among college students: http://www.active.minds.org.

What are my privacy rights in dealing with mental health professionals on or off campus?

- All mental health professionals are legally required to keep what you say during therapy sessions confidential unless you authorise the release of information. The only exception to this is if they are concerned for your safety or the safety of others.

- Most school counseling centers will not release your medical information without your written authorization. Ask your counseling center about their policy on confidentiality.

Adapted from: Your Mind, Your Rights, Campus Mental Health. Know Your Rights. A guide for students who want to seek help for mental illness or emotional distress.

CAMPUS SOLIDARITY CAMPAIGN

- Kristen Sokol
-Illinois Institute of Technology

Anti-stigma effort using a campaign logo
Inspired by the “safe-space” campaign
Currently under evaluation and testing.

Transitions RTC
Maryann Davis, PhD, Director
Supporting Students: A Model Policy for Colleges and Universities

Bazelon Center for Mental Health Law

Guiding Principle 2 (out of 48)

The College will:
• Acknowledge but not stigmatize mental health conditions
• Make suicide prevention a priority
• To seek health or treatment that they may need
• Ensure that personal information is kept confidential
• Make reasonable accommodations
• Refrain from discrimination against students with mental health conditions, including outive actions toward those in crises.

Partially supported by the Temple Collaborative on Community Inclusion www.tucollaborative.org

Transitions RTC
Maryann Davis, PhD, Director
Campus Supports

- Student Movements in Mental Health
  - National Efforts- Active Minds
  - NAMI on Campus

- RTC Efforts to support YA’s on campus’s Accommodations on Campus

- A Study on Young adult Experiences and perspectives
“changing the conversation about mental health”

Educate students so they know where to turn for help

Empower students to engage peers, administrators and communities on every campus

Teach student leaders to ensure the next generation of advocates

Connect all who are passionate about college mental health

http://www.activeminds.org/
Send Silence Packing

http://sendsilencepacking.org/

First hand accounts and resources

1,100 bags = 1 bag to represent every student who dies each year by suicide
Chapters Making Change

Transitions RTC
Maryann Davis, PhD, Director
• Anna Maria President created Lifesize Barbie
• Shared on campus during Eating Disorder Awareness Week
• Lifesize Barbie has appeared on FOX 25 news, Shepard Symposium of Social Justice, etc.
“You may think I have the perfect body, but if I were real, my neck would only be big enough to hold a trachea or esophagus, so I’d have to pick between eating and breathing. I’d be so top heavy that I’d have to walk on all fours, and I couldn’t have kids because I do not have the 17-22% body fat necessary to bear children.”

-Lifesize Barbie-
You helped me realize that I am more than my mental illness

Thank you.

I am more than my mental illness

I am so scared
that I will never again be the person I was before I got sick.

Yet I am so very lonely

All of my tools
are teachers.
They saved my life.

Awards to:

Student of the Month

I am rarely alone

I am rarely alone
• There are 23 NAMI on Campus clubs
• Promote early detection
• Provide intervention and resources
• Encourage students to get help
• Combat stigma
• End seclusion of college students with mental health conditions
• Promote existing services
• Advocate for enhanced supports
Providing College Based Resources: The Accommodations Tip Sheet

Getting Accommodations at College: Tools for School

What Accommodations or Modifications Can I Ask For?
- Preferred seating
- Breaks allowed during class
- Voice recorded lectures
- Classmate acts as a note-taker
- Text and syllabus available in advance
- Class materials available on computer
- Frequent feedback on ongoing class work
- Alternate formats for assignments

What Do I Need In the Classroom?
- Exams in alternate formats such as written, oral, or electronic
- Extended time for test taking
- Exams given one-on-one
- Testing in a room with limited distractions
- Allow exam to be taken in 2-3 sessions throughout the span of a few days

What Do I Need During Exams?
- Extended time to complete assignments without lateness affecting grade
- Advance notice of assignments
- Textbook available on tape
- Assistive technology available for assignments
- Working in pairs on in-class assignments
- Help with assignments during hospitalization

What Do I Need Completing Assignments?
- Reduced course load (being a full-time student without having to be signed up for the normally required 12 credits)
- First choice for signing up for classes to make a less stressful schedule
- Textbook given in different format (on computer/on tape)
- Incomplete given instead of failure if relapse occurs
- Assistance with filling out financial aid/registration forms
- And more!

References:

Visit Transitions RTC online at http://lab.vax.usl.edu/transitionsRTC
Visit VocareHope online at http://vocarehope.wikispaces.com/
• Young Adults involved in Process
• Second most popular product
• Getting Young Adults the information they need to be successful
• Support Advocacy

“Words are very powerful, ‘reasonable accommodations’ is one the best phrases I know. If the youth use this phrase, it shows they are knowledgeable and that they are asking what need rather than what they want”
Reasonable Accommodations in Post-Secondary Education:
Young Adult Perspectives and Experiences

• Participatory Action Research

• Phase 1: interview up to 25 young adult college students with mental health conditions to better understand their experiences seeking/using accommodations at college, conduct a literature review on the topic, and seek consultation from researchers in this field.

• Phase 2: create and design a web survey based on the results of the qualitative interviews

• Phase 3: collect data from a national sample using a web survey data collection tool.

Transitions RTC
Maryann Davis, PhD, Director
Where do you find our products and these slides?

http://labs.umassmed.edu/transitionRTC/