

Lead V1 continuous strip

The image displays a continuous ECG recording on a standard grid. The rhythm is regular, with a rate of approximately 75-80 bpm. Each cycle shows a narrow QRS complex with a small rS pattern, characteristic of Lead V1. The ST segment is slightly elevated, and the T waves are upright and moderately tall. A red box highlights the text 'Lead V1 continuous strip' in the center of the strip.