Webinar Information:

Here are some things you need to know:

Requirements: You need a desktop, laptop, or cell phone with speakers to pick up the audio in order to participate remotely. Cell phone users should download the ZOOM App before starting, and please remember to MUTE YOUR PHONE during the presentation. We will still broadcast out of the Memorial Amphitheater for those who prefer to attend in person. Our health centers will use ZOOM to broadcast Grand Rounds in their respective conference rooms.

If you want CME credit:

As before, each health center will maintain a sign-in sheet at the video conference sites. For remote viewers, you must sign into ZOOM using your full name, and you must be logged in for at least 30 minutes in order for credit to be awarded.

(Type your full name over what appears in the box labeled “Your Name.)

Please join the conference without audio or video.

This will mute your microphone on your desktop AND your desktop’s camera will not display your image over the presentation, but you will see and hear the presentation being broadcast.

Presenters are encouraged to leave time for questions. Rather than calling in, we will be using the Chat feature of ZOOM located at the bottom of the ZOOM screen on your device.

Grand Rounds will continue to be recorded for viewing after the live session (No CME is available if watching asynchronously). The Grand Rounds Archive will appear on the FMCH website: <https://www.umassmed.edu/fmch/faculty-resources/gr/>
