The University of Massachusetts Medical School (UMMS), the commonwealth's only public medical school, is proud of our role in serving the people of Massachusetts. But it's the inside workings of UMMS that makes the difference.

Mission and Culture

We're serious about our mission and about our people.

Real World Impact – Our people get excited about our mission of real-world impact in health sciences education, research and public service.

Deep Commitment – With our clinical partner, UMass Memorial Health Care, and our other teaching affiliates, we share a deep commitment to national distinction in patient care.

Valued Collaboration – Commonwealth Medicine and MassBiologics are valued entities of UMMS that help us provide services and programs to meet the needs of the public. Commonwealth Medicine is the health care consulting arm of UMMS. Commonwealth Medicine is setting the bar for how to serve different patient populations, developing comprehensive financial strategies, and performing cutting edge research that impacts health policy. MassBiologics provides scientific collaborations, technology management and creates partnerships for the development of products for the benefit of patients.

Proud Contributors – People at UMMS enjoy the feeling of going to work every day knowing what they do is truly important and worthwhile.

Complementary and Inseparable – These varied parts of our mission and culture are complementary and inseparable and what sets us apart from others. Each part represents a unique strength and pieced together contributes to what differentiates UMMS and makes it whole.
