

UMass Named as a Top Employer for 2021 by DiversityJobs.com

UMass has been named one of the Top Employers for 2021 by DiversityJobs.com!

The University of Massachusetts has been named a Top Employer for 2021 in the Education Category for its dedication and commitment to building a diverse workforce and culture.

To offer the best education and research opportunities, UMass Medical School (UMMS) recruits the best faculty and staff to help realize the UMMS mission.

UMMS is always looking for talented, determined individuals who live for excellence and believe in providing the best education possible. It's not just professors who make the mission a reality; UMass employs a wide variety of administrative and operational staff to keep the UMass system running smoothly, from finance to security, IT to international relations, and more. With so many campuses, people, and career opportunities, there are all sorts of ways to join the UMass community.

For over 150 years, the University of Massachusetts has striven to be a revolutionary force for education and knowledge. That means giving opportunities not just for students to learn, but for faculty and staff to pursue goals, build careers, and thrive in anything they choose.

A career at UMass opens up a network of excellence that extends well beyond campus boundaries, and a chance to participate in the amazing educational mission of the UMass system. With rapidly growing research and development capabilities, a career at UMass opens a gateway to endless discovery and curiosity for faculty. It's no wonder that UMass attracts award-winning minds from across many disciplines.
