Do you enjoy teaching? Are you into science? Can you act?

Did you know that lay people called “Standardized Patients” can learn to portray patients and coach medical learners at all levels? Please join us to learn more about becoming a Standardized Patient: turn your interests into meaningful part-time work contributing to medical education across New England.

- Simulate patients with medical conditions and/or communication challenges
- Evaluate, score, and coach your learner, according to defined competencies
- Earn while you learn: $18.00/hour - Earn on assignment: $20/hour
- Take additional training to teach physical examinations - and more!
