

Increasing Access to Perinatal Depression Treatment: MCPAP for Moms

Nancy Byatt, DO, MS, MBA, FAPM
Medical Director, MCPAP for Moms

Tiffany Moore Simas, MD, MPH, MEd, FACOG
Lead Obstetric Liaison, MCPAP for Moms

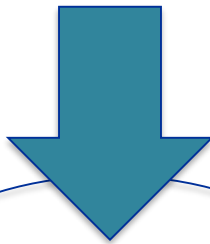

The health care system needs to change to support mothers with perinatal depression

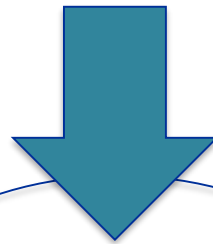

Massachusetts Child Psychiatry Access Program

MOPAP

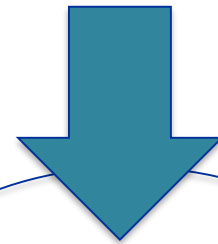

For Moms

Education

Consultation

Care coordination

Since our launch in July 2014, MCPAP for Moms has served many providers and parents

OB Practices Enrolled	133 (72%)
Women Served	2,955
Doc-doc Telephone Encounters	2,150
Face to Face Evaluations	188
Care Coordination Encounters	3,674

Since our launch in July 2014, MCPAP for Moms has served many providers and parents

OB Practices Enrolled	133 (72%)
Women Served	2,955
Doc-doc Telephone Encounters	2,150
Face to Face Evaluations	188
Care Coordination Encounters	3,674

Untreated depression comes at a high cost

$22,000/yr

$192,400,000/yr

Our costs our low

$22,000/yr

$11.81/yr
$0.98/month

$192,400,000/yr

$850,000/yr

With MCPAP for Moms, all women across MA have access to depression treatment

MCPAP for Moms can serve as model for other states in the US

With MCPAP for Moms, all women across MA have access to depression treatment

MCPAP for Moms can serve as model for others states in the US

Please contact us

www.mcpapformoms.org

Nancy Byatt, DO, MS, MBA, FAPM
Medical Director

Nancy.Byatt@umassmemorial.org

Tiffany Moore Simas, MD, MPH, MEd, FACOG
Lead Obstetric Liaison

TiffanyA.MooreSimas@umassmemorial.org

Funding provided by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health.

Thank you!