What is an opioid pain management agreement?

• Treatment Agreements are documents created by different practices to help provide education and information articulating rationale and risks of treatment.

• Helps to counsel patient on the risks and benefits of opioid analgesics, and obtain verbal informed consent for their use.

Adapted from Alford May 2010