Special Programs

Center for Health Infant Lung Development (CHILD) Clinic: This new clinic evaluates infants who failed their initial car seat screening and were sent home in a car bed. A follow-up screening will help determine when it's safe for an infant to travel in a traditional car seat. To schedule an appointment, call 508-334-6270 or email CHILDClinic@umassmemorial.org.

Community High-Risk Asthma Program: The Children's Medical Center is leading a pediatric asthma initiative aimed at helping high-risk asthmatic children in the Worcester community to cut down on school absences and frequent hospital visits. Through a grant from the Prevention and Wellness Trust Fund, resources are available to provide asthma home visits, community legal aid and administration of asthma medication in school to improve pediatric asthma control. Watch this short video to learn all the details. For additional information, contact Dottie Page, Michelle Trivedi or Ted Kremer or call 508-856-4155.

Down Syndrome Program (DSP): A dedicated multidisciplinary program for infants, children and adolescents with Down syndrome, the program focuses on providing integrated, high-quality medical care and can coordinate appointments with pediatric specialists, including: audiology, cardiology, dermatology, developmental/behavioral pediatrics, endocrinology, ENT, gastroenterology, genetics, hematology/oncology, nutrition, orthopedics, psychiatry and pulmonology. The DSP clinic sees patients on Fridays from 12:45 – 5 pm. Contact information: DSC@umassmemorial.org or 774-443-UMDC (8637).

Feeding Clinic: Feeding Clinic offers a multidisciplinary team evaluation for infants and children with oral motor difficulties that inhibit their overall nutrition and development. The nurse practitioner, dietitian, occupational therapist and speech therapist work with the child and family. The feeding evaluation will include a caregiver interview, feeding/swallowing observation and evaluation of oral & related developmental motor skills; a nutritional and growth assessment; as well as management of gastrostomy tubes. They will write an individualized treatment plan with strategies to improve feeding skills, nutritional status and promote optimal health and well-being. Patients are seen on Thursday afternoons from 1 to 5 pm. For more information call 508-856-2128; for an appointment call 774-442-5695.

Genodermatoses Clinic: The Genetic Dermatology Combined Clinic diagnoses and treats genetic skin disorders in children and young adults from birth to 21 years of age and has experts in hereditary skin diseases, including neurofibromatosis, tuberous sclerosis, pigmentation disorders, ichthyoses and any genetic conditions with skin, hair or nail manifestations. Contact information: 508-334-5979, request the Genetics Dermatology Clinic.

Good Fit Teen Weight and Wellness Clinic: For adolescents between 13 and 18 with a BMI of 35 or above, our multidisciplinary team helps teens set and reach their own personal goals while decreasing their risk for developing long-term medical health problems. Patients must attend a live orientation prior to enrolling in the program. Contact information: GoodFit@umassmemorial.org or 508-334-9000/774-443-3886.

Growth and Nutrition Clinic: The Growth and Nutrition Clinic offers a multidisciplinary team evaluation of children birth through 6 years of age who are seriously underweight or losing weight. The Clinic is partially supported by a grant from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and is open to all children and families in Central Massachusetts. Patients are seen on Tuesday mornings from 9 am to noon. Contact Information: Andrea Pastick at 508-334-8728 or by email to Andrea.Pastick@umassmemorial.org.

Multidisciplinary Epidermolysis Bullosa Clinic: UMass has the only specialized clinic in New England for the care of infants, children, adolescents and young adults with all forms of epidermolysis bullosa. Expert EB care is provided by pediatric specialists including dermatology, gastroenterology, nutrition, palliative care/hematology and surgery. Contact 508-334-5979 for appointments and request EB clinic.

Pediatric Kidney Transplant Program: The only pediatric transplant center in Central and Western Massachusetts, the pediatric kidney transplant program provides top-notch transplant care with close collaboration among transplant surgery, transplant pediatric nephrology, urology, infectious disease, both pre- and post-transplant coordinators, psychology, nutrition, social work, child life and other supporting staff. Contact information: Neena.Gupta@umassmemorial.org or 774-442-2131.

Youth Gender Clinic: UMass Memorial Children's Medical Center Youth Gender Services offers resources and support to transgender and gender non-conforming youth up to age 19. Our team of caregivers will assist patients with gender transition, if desired, or exploration of their gender identity. Our goal is to help our patients to comfortably integrate their gender identity into their everyday lives. To make an appointment, call 855-UMASS-MD.
