Imaging Blunt Trauma to the Chest

Marc Camacho, MD, MS
Assistant Professor of Radiology
University of South Florida
& Florida State University
Director, Emergency Radiology
Sarasota Memorial Hospital
Tampa, FL

Thursday, October 17, 2019
12:00 Noon – 1:00 PM
Radiology Conference Room
S2-819
University of Massachusetts Medical School
Case Conference with Radiology Residents to Follow in S2-302

Objectives:
1. Recognize Acute Traumatic Aortic Injury, including newly classified Minimal Aortic Injury
2. Discriminate between the common causes of lung opacity on CT in the setting of trauma
3. Recognize and describe the various CT signs of traumatic diaphragmatic injury